A SONGBOOK OF SPACES

This work was developed for The Phoenix Voices as part of the Adopt a Music Creator project, funded by the PRS Foundation and the Philip and Dorothy Green Music Trust, and run by Making Music, in partnership with Sound and Music.

PROGRAMME NOTE

A Songbook of Spaces is a theatrical choral work that takes the listener on a journey from home, to old historic lanes, to woods full of creatures, to the sea and to high-up places. The choreography, staging and props are suggestions to help this journey come to life in performance, but the songs can also be performed individually, or as a smaller selection.

Song I	HOME	SSAATB
Song II	LOVERS LANE	SSAATB
Song III	THE WOODS	SSSAAATB + four brown paper bags, four ocean drums (paper plates with lentils inside), eight stones, a few handfuls of sea-shells.
Song IV	STEEP SEAS	SATB
Song V	UP HIGH	SATB

Over a year of creative workshops devised by the composer for The Phoenix Voices, the choir shared thoughts, memories and stories about their relationship with different landscapes and places. Much of the musical and text material was generated through guided improvisation, graphic scores, and percussive and vocal games. Writers Madeleine Walder and Samuel Reilly also contributed to the text.

DURATION: 20' (whole songbook). Or taken individually: Home 5', Lovers Lane 4', The Woods 6', Steep Seas 6', Up High 4'.

Detailed description: This is a musical score for eight voices, labeled S1, S2, S3, A1, A2, A3, T, and B. The score is written on eight staves, each with a treble clef except for the bass line (B) which has a bass clef. The first staff (S1) contains the lyrics 'coo - coo' and has a treble clef with a sharp sign (F#) on the first line. The notes are a quarter note on the first line (F#) and a quarter note on the second line (C). The remaining seven staves (S2, S3, A1, A2, A3, T, B) are marked '(Continue)' and have horizontal arrows pointing to the right, indicating that the music continues from the previous page. A vertical line on the left side of the staves is labeled with the number '14' at the top and '8' at the bottom. The page number '10' and rehearsal mark '20"' are located at the top left.

IV STEEP SEAS

Divide the choir into two groups, one twice the size of the other.

The smaller group must have a mix of SATB and will sing only from the score (see next page for start).

For the larger group:

1. Allocate the six voice parts below to each of the singers at random (voice type is irrelevant). It does not matter if there are not as many as six singers; any selection of the voice parts can be allocated. Similarly, if there are more than six singers, two or more singers can share a voice part.

2. During Reh. Letters A and B, singers should shout/sing/speak their text as though they were busy at work at a seafront marketplace (selling fish/ice-creams/sea-shells, or looking after their dogs close by). Singers should interact with one another, forming a collage of sound, which begins busily, with singers interrupting and overlapping each other, and which becomes gradually more sparse up to Reh. Letter C. Here, the text for each voice part changes (see below) and the singers are reacting to the two boys: one who has egged the other on to sing out far to sea. Here, again, the text should be delivered in character, as the marketplace sellers become distracted from their work and watch and react to this dangerous scene. All text should be memorised.

3. Singers join the score from the second time repeat of D, resuming their usual SATB parts.

Reh. Letters A + B

*Fresh fish for sale, fresh fish
Herring, haddock, hake and whiting
Herring, mackerel by the dozen*

*Silver darlings caught this morning
Silver mackerel by the dozen
Sprats straight from my boat.*

*Oysters
Rock oysters and natives

*Live crabs

*Ice creams
Come and get your ice creams
Ice creams

*Shells! Get your seashells
Shells for sandcastles,
Shells to make a necklace
Pretty for your sweetheart*

Reh. Letter C

Where is that boy sped?

Where has his mother gone?

He looks so tiny in those waves

His arms are waving wild

He's much too young!

And no-one near. And no-one near enough.

V UP HIGH

Lucy Callen

Choir members imagining they are sat at the top of a hill or mountain feeling what it feels to be 'Up High'. The following pairs of words are written on separate pieces of paper, folded and scattered around the outer edges of the stage: Trees sway | Wind whistles | Snow tinkles | Earth rolls on and on | Swallows sigh | Rocks groan | Sun bursts | Red kite soars.

At each Reh. letter, one allocated choir member slowly moves, with curiosity, to outer edges of stage (the hill or mountain) to discover one of the papers. They should aim to arrive at the paper by the pause bar. They unfold the paper and read out the words to the other choir members, who respond spontaneously with sounds inspired by what they hear. As sounds are made, the allocated choir member moves slowly back to re-join choir. When it feels right, the choir continues onto the next Reh. letter. The pattern repeats with a new choir member getting up each time.

This process should be ritualistic, not naturalistic. Each of the allocated eight choir members should rehearse the choreography of the way they get up, move to the papers, and return. The variation comes from the surprise of which paper is opened each time and from the choir's interpretation of the ritual, though their reaction should have some shape (which can be rehearsed): a rise and fall.
